

News, Comment, and Gossip of the Whole World of Professional and Amateur Sport

JEFFRIES' PHYSICIAN APPROVES JOHNSON

Says His Condition Is So Good Only Lack of Skill Can Beat Him—White Man's Stomach Reported Bad.

(Continued from First Page.)

who has come back after a layoff of six years, and I'll hand you a layoff of that length and I don't care how good they look they are not there. Jeffries has just about seventy-five pounds since he started training and you can't tell me that he didn't lose strength with that flesh. He was never a boxer, never had a fight that he wasn't used up in, and as far as meeting a man like Johnson goes, he never dreamed of it.

Beat Old Men.

"Why he never beat a young fellow in his life. He made his reputation off old men like Fitzsimmons, Corbett, Jackson and the like. They were all in when he got them. Young fellows like Sharkey and Chynoweth, although they were half a foot shy in height and fifty pounds lighter, went the limit with him."

"This fellow Johnson is a better boxer than any man Jeffries ever met and is just as strong if not stronger than the boxer himself. He must rough-house Johnson a bit. He won't beat him and tire him out as he did with little Sharkey. He will have a man who is almost as tall as himself, almost as heavy, just as strong, and a not cleaver. He always did fear Johnson and right now he isn't so sure about his condition himself. He did not make the match with Johnson until he was forced into it and he'd rather be on the stage boxing with a man than showing us what sort of a fighter he is."

Sieve Ketchel said today: "I'd rather see the white man win this battle, but all this race stuff don't change my opinion. I say now as I said in the East that Jack Johnson will surely beat Jeffries. I think Johnson is very much underrated by the general public. I fought him and I know what a big fellow can do. You will see him on the Fourth of July slugging them in just as hard as he can. He will be a tough battle for a while, but that classy Texan kid will win."

Those who have arranged for seats facing the sun going to have a merry time of it on Monday watching the fight. If it is delayed any by the heat the sun will be directly in the eyes, and only smoked glasses will help then, and how's a fellow going to know who's who with colored heads on?

There are five entrances to the arena here, and each ticket gate is separate. The $50 boys go in one door, the $30's in another, the $20's go in another, the ten-dollars go in another, and the rail birds will dig for the five at still another.

Will Preserve Order.

"The first man that tries to jump into another division will get it in the neck," said Richard L. Light. "We are not in Frisco now, you know, and the Nevada police will deal with all alike."

There is a little battle on between Sheriff Farley, of Reno, and the police chief as to who is going to boss the works. Every one entering the arena on the day of the battle will be searched, and no big boys will be admitted, and if you object to being searched you will have to stay outside.

Tom Corbett arrived and opened his official betting headquarters over Jim May's saloon.

Tom is offering 10 to 6 with Jeffries still the favorite. Other betting is even money that Jeffries doesn't win in nineteen rounds. Jeffries said that he couldn't see why Jeffries made him the favorite in the betting.

"Why I was touted is a poor, tottering old man, who stumbled around the camp looking for sympathy. I could come back, had lost my hair and was hunched like a hunchback. How they figure all these things and still keep me favorite! God! It ought to be an even money bet, that's the best I can say."

It is almost a certainty that both men will meet under the most trying conditions of weather and atmosphere. The arena lies out on the flat, far from the water course and this morning it was so hot inside the inclosure that the pitch was coming out of the pine boards. If the Fourth is held, the other Fourth which have come before it in Reno, it will be hot enough in that big men on Monday to eat a salamander and cry enough to choke a camel. Under such conditions the fight in the absence of rain will be a development into a contest of stamina and endurance.

The arena will be completed before night. The work is being rushed. This asylum for disgruntled bachelors is only now beginning to feel the effect of the big fight. While the arena has been of record proportions heretofore they have increased to such size that it is scarcely possible along any thoroughfare.

WHITE MAN FISHES; JOHNSON BETTING

RENO, Nev., July 1.—With the big fight only three days away James J. Jeffries got up at 3 o'clock this morning and went fishing. With a party of his friends he went to Poca over the California line in an auto. It was still dark when the party started out. Jack Johnson, alert and happy, arose this morning with a smile on his face which displayed every golden tooth in his head.

The big black felt kittenish, but did not care to be drawn into any sort of talk. He appears to be a little worried beneath the surface now that the big mill is so near at hand.

Notwithstanding that he has cut training, the crowds still wend their way to Wick's resort to have a glance at the black demon.

Johnson Backs Himself.

Jack, according to reports today, has bet another $3,000 on his chances to win. Another report was that he wanted $5,000 against it and that there were no takers.

The first report was that Jack had placed a good share of the $3,000 on the mutual system. The book figures: Rounds one to five, 2 to 1; six to ten, 2 to 1; eleven to fifteen, 3 to 1; sixteen to twenty, 4 to 1; twenty-one to twenty-five, 1 to 1; twenty-six and over, 2 to 1. The man who can pick the exact round Johnson closes his training yesterday with a couple of sessions for the motion picture men and their machines after he had done a faithful morning turn on the road up toward the Sierra mountains.

The deep lines on Jeffries' determined face are accentuated to a great degree as the day of the battle approaches. He is not visibly nervous and he does not seem to be.

knock-out at an early stage of the game.

Jeffries is ready for one of the hardest fights of his career. He knows that the ebony giant will try every sort of trick to win this fight. Johnson will try to wear down the bone and muscle dreads and cut him into ribbons with his quick, short jabs.

The big bear has prepared for all of this and will content himself in looking for an opening. Once found, Lili Artia's fighting career will be ended.

The Jeffries fans are sticking to him like plaster and can't see how he can be defeated.

Their enthusiasm is boundless. Jeffries is such a heavy eater that he will have to do roadwork right along in order to keep his wind in good shape, but the work will not amount to much.

to use their fists they would use fewer revolvers and knives."

ENGLISH OPINION CHANGES RAPIDLY

LONDON, July 1.—The belief that Jeffries will whip Johnson is growing in England as the even money betting today shows. Two days ago Johnson was a 10 to 7 favorite, and it is estimated that the members of the National Sporting Club alone have wagered $200,000 on the black man at this and even longer prices. English sporting writers who were almost to a man pick Johnson to win, say that the change in the betting is due more to the final outcropping of race prejudice than to any change in sporting opinion. The Evening News today says: "Owing to the intense interest of Londoners in the fight, race feeling is beginning to replace genuine, unbiased sporting opinion. Some people even take the extreme view that it is impossible for a negro to be better than a white man in anything pertaining to boxing. The history of the ring, however, does not entirely bear out such a contention."

The betting is the heaviest ever seen in England on a prize fight. If Jeffries wins, there will be a barrel of money leave England for America, as it developed today that Americans are furnishing most of the Jeffries money. Americans simply swamped English commissioners with money, while Johnson was an odds-on favorite, and they are calling their friends and business representatives to take all the even money offered.

The only way to explain the sentiment in favor of Johnson is that he whipped Tommy Burns so soundly. Burns was the idol of the British sports, because of all his big fights, has insisted throughout that there was no necessity for boxing, and that his rival was a mere brute. Burns, however, was a world champion, and the British public, and so Johnson was made the favorite. Then, too, Johnson has been seen in action in London and he impressed everyone with his strength and cleverness.

HEALTH AUTHORITY LAUDS BIG FIGHT

CINCINNATI, Ohio, July 1.—Dr. J. H. Landis, prominent as a health authority of this city, said today: "I believe in prize fighting." In this he runs full head on to the Ministerial Association of this city that originated the crusade against the Johnson-Jeffries fight in California.

"Put me off at Reno" is what I would say if I had the time," continued Dr. Landis to the newspaper man. "I believe such exhibitions as Jeffries and Johnson will put upon the Fourth will be of benefit to the country. How? By stimulating interest in physical culture and courage. If men knew better how to box, they would be better off."

JOHNSON FAVORITE WITH AUSTRALIANS

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., July 1.—Sydney correspondence dated June 7 says: "Great interest is being taken in the Johnson-Jeffries fight throughout Australia, and in any betting which is being done Johnson is a firm favorite."

While the Australians hope for the success of Jeffries, it is enough the latter will not re-enter the ring as the Jeffries of old, and even if he did Johnson would still be regarded as a likely winner.

"The hearty good wishes of Australians will help him to the limit," the negro Jeffries has them beyond a doubt."

Jeffries is ready for one of the hardest fights of his career. He knows that the ebony giant will try every sort of trick to win this fight. Johnson will try to wear down the bone and muscle dreads and cut him into ribbons with his quick, short jabs.

The big bear has prepared for all of this and will content himself in looking for an opening. Once found, Lili Artia's fighting career will be ended.

The Jeffries fans are sticking to him like plaster and can't see how he can be defeated.

Their enthusiasm is boundless. Jeffries is such a heavy eater that he will have to do roadwork right along in order to keep his wind in good shape, but the work will not amount to much.

to use their fists they would use fewer revolvers and knives."

ENGLISH OPINION CHANGES RAPIDLY

LONDON, July 1.—The belief that Jeffries will whip Johnson is growing in England as the even money betting today shows. Two days ago Johnson was a 10 to 7 favorite, and it is estimated that the members of the National Sporting Club alone have wagered $200,000 on the black man at this and even longer prices. English sporting writers who were almost to a man pick Johnson to win, say that the change in the betting is due more to the final outcropping of race prejudice than to any change in sporting opinion. The Evening News today says: "Owing to the intense interest of Londoners in the fight, race feeling is beginning to replace genuine, unbiased sporting opinion. Some people even take the extreme view that it is impossible for a negro to be better than a white man in anything pertaining to boxing. The history of the ring, however, does not entirely bear out such a contention."

The betting is the heaviest ever seen in England on a prize fight. If Jeffries wins, there will be a barrel of money leave England for America, as it developed today that Americans are furnishing most of the Jeffries money. Americans simply swamped English commissioners with money, while Johnson was an odds-on favorite, and they are calling their friends and business representatives to take all the even money offered.

LACK OF BOXING JABS ON CORBETT

Urged Boilermaker to Do More, But He Followed Cornell's Advice.

By MAX BALTHASAR.

JEFFRIES' TRAINING CAMP, MONA SPRINGS, RENO, Nev., July 1.—If there is any question remaining as to Jim Jeffries' condition, it has to do with his boxing, and while there has been an almost constant cry on the part of his admirers for glove work, it has not been until within the past week or so that things have come to a crisis right within his own camp.

Jim Corbett, the supposed Moses who was chosen to lead Big Jim out of the wilderness of uppercuts and jabs, has shown signs of rebellion. Gentlemen Jim took to heart the many criticisms offered because of Jeffries' failure to do more boxing, and felt that some of them attached to himself. He became quite free in his talk of Jeffries' evident indifference to boxing. Within the past few days Corbett has declared that in his opinion Jeffries is making a serious mistake in neglecting to make his sparring partners do more work.

Corbett Turned Down.

Corbett, ever since he announced himself ready to box with his two-time conqueror, has shown that he was disappointed with the manner in which his gloves were slighted. It remained, however, for a friend to put out that since he joined the big fellow's camp, Corbett has had the gloves on with Jeff seven rounds.

"I have done the best I can," said Corbett, "I have pleased with Jeffries to do more boxing. He needs it. Morning after morning I have begged him to put on the gloves with me. He has invariably promised, but when the time came he wasn't there. Of course, there is so little time left now in which the big fellow can do glove work that it is hardly worth while to bother about it, but I am really sorry Jeff has not done more boxing. The history of the ring, however, does not entirely bear out such a contention."

Camp Is Divided.

That there has been a difference of opinion on the boxing question in Jeffries' camp has just become known. Three weeks ago Jim was in shape, and with a couple of days for "drying out" he could have gone into the ring in just as good form as he will show when he enters the ring Monday afternoon.

The camp was not exactly divided against itself, as the preponderance of judgment was against any more hard work, boxing or otherwise. Brother Jack, who has been with Jim in all his big fights, has insisted throughout that there was no necessity for boxing, and that his rival was a mere brute. Burns, however, was a world champion, and the British public, and so Johnson was made the favorite. Then, too, Johnson has been seen in action in London and he impressed everyone with his strength and cleverness.

The only way to explain the sentiment in favor of Johnson is that he whipped Tommy Burns so soundly. Burns was the idol of the British sports, because of all his big fights, has insisted throughout that there was no necessity for boxing, and that his rival was a mere brute. Burns, however, was a world champion, and the British public, and so Johnson was made the favorite. Then, too, Johnson has been seen in action in London and he impressed everyone with his strength and cleverness.

The only way to explain the sentiment in favor of Johnson is that he whipped Tommy Burns so soundly. Burns was the idol of the British sports, because of all his big fights, has insisted throughout that there was no necessity for boxing, and that his rival was a mere brute. Burns, however, was a world champion, and the British public, and so Johnson was made the favorite. Then, too, Johnson has been seen in action in London and he impressed everyone with his strength and cleverness.

The only way to explain the sentiment in favor of Johnson is that he whipped Tommy Burns so soundly. Burns was the idol of the British sports, because of all his big fights, has insisted throughout that there was no necessity for boxing, and that his rival was a mere brute. Burns, however, was a world champion, and the British public, and so Johnson was made the favorite. Then, too, Johnson has been seen in action in London and he impressed everyone with his strength and cleverness.

The only way to explain the sentiment in favor of Johnson is that he whipped Tommy Burns so soundly. Burns was the idol of the British sports, because of all his big fights, has insisted throughout that there was no necessity for boxing, and that his rival was a mere brute. Burns, however, was a world champion, and the British public, and so Johnson was made the favorite. Then, too, Johnson has been seen in action in London and he impressed everyone with his strength and cleverness.

The only way to explain the sentiment in favor of Johnson is that he whipped Tommy Burns so soundly. Burns was the idol of the British sports, because of all his big fights, has insisted throughout that there was no necessity for boxing, and that his rival was a mere brute. Burns, however, was a world champion, and the British public, and so Johnson was made the favorite. Then, too, Johnson has been seen in action in London and he impressed everyone with his strength and cleverness.

The only way to explain the sentiment in favor of Johnson is that he whipped Tommy Burns so soundly. Burns was the idol of the British sports, because of all his big fights, has insisted throughout that there was no necessity for boxing, and that his rival was a mere brute. Burns, however, was a world champion, and the British public, and so Johnson was made the favorite. Then, too, Johnson has been seen in action in London and he impressed everyone with his strength and cleverness.

The only way to explain the sentiment in favor of Johnson is that he whipped Tommy Burns so soundly. Burns was the idol of the British sports, because of all his big fights, has insisted throughout that there was no necessity for boxing, and that his rival was a mere brute. Burns, however, was a world champion, and the British public, and so Johnson was made the favorite. Then, too, Johnson has been seen in action in London and he impressed everyone with his strength and cleverness.

The only way to explain the sentiment in favor of Johnson is that he whipped Tommy Burns so soundly. Burns was the idol of the British sports, because of all his big fights, has insisted throughout that there was no necessity for boxing, and that his rival was a mere brute. Burns, however, was a world champion, and the British public, and so Johnson was made the favorite. Then, too, Johnson has been seen in action in London and he impressed everyone with his strength and cleverness.

The only way to explain the sentiment in favor of Johnson is that he whipped Tommy Burns so soundly. Burns was the idol of the British sports, because of all his big fights, has insisted throughout that there was no necessity for boxing, and that his rival was a mere brute. Burns, however, was a world champion, and the British public, and so Johnson was made the favorite. Then, too, Johnson has been seen in action in London and he impressed everyone with his strength and cleverness.

The only way to explain the sentiment in favor of Johnson is that he whipped Tommy Burns so soundly. Burns was the idol of the British sports, because of all his big fights, has insisted throughout that there was no necessity for boxing, and that his rival was a mere brute. Burns, however, was a world champion, and the British public, and so Johnson was made the favorite. Then, too, Johnson has been seen in action in London and he impressed everyone with his strength and cleverness.

The only way to explain the sentiment in favor of Johnson is that he whipped Tommy Burns so soundly. Burns was the idol of the British sports, because of all his big fights, has insisted throughout that there was no necessity for boxing, and that his rival was a mere brute. Burns, however, was a world champion, and the British public, and so Johnson was made the favorite. Then, too, Johnson has been seen in action in London and he impressed everyone with his strength and cleverness.

The only way to explain the sentiment in favor of Johnson is that he whipped Tommy Burns so soundly. Burns was the idol of the British sports, because of all his big fights, has insisted throughout that there was no necessity for boxing, and that his rival was a mere brute. Burns, however, was a world champion, and the British public, and so Johnson was made the favorite. Then, too, Johnson has been seen in action in London and he impressed everyone with his strength and cleverness.

The only way to explain the sentiment in favor of Johnson is that he whipped Tommy Burns so soundly. Burns was the idol of the British sports, because of all his big fights, has insisted throughout that there was no necessity for boxing, and that his rival was a mere brute. Burns, however, was a world champion, and the British public, and so Johnson was made the favorite. Then, too, Johnson has been seen in action in London and he impressed everyone with his strength and cleverness.

The only way to explain the sentiment in favor of Johnson is that he whipped Tommy Burns so soundly. Burns was the idol of the British sports, because of all his big fights, has insisted throughout that there was no necessity for boxing, and that his rival was a mere brute. Burns, however, was a world champion, and the British public, and so Johnson was made the favorite. Then, too, Johnson has been seen in action in London and he impressed everyone with his strength and cleverness.

The only way to explain the sentiment in favor of Johnson is that he whipped Tommy Burns so soundly. Burns was the idol of the British sports, because of all his big fights, has insisted throughout that there was no necessity for boxing, and that his rival was a mere brute. Burns, however, was a world champion, and the British public, and so Johnson was made the favorite. Then, too, Johnson has been seen in action in London and he impressed everyone with his strength and cleverness.

WASHINGTON BETS LITTLE ON FIGHT

Jeffries Men Want 7 to 10; Johnson Backers Ask 10 to 6—Negroes Apathetic In Their Wagering on Bout.

Surprisingly little betting appears to have been done in Washington on the Jeffries and Johnson contention on July 4.

The odds are by no means settled, and the man who wants to find a price for his money gets a different answer in every quarter. One cold calculating citizen is willing to bet at the rate of $120 to $200, taking the Johnson short end. In another place can be found $500 to bet on Jeffries at 10 to 7. A compromise may be reached.

The negro bettors were always strong to back Joe Gans, George Dixon or Joe Walcott, and others of their race in big fights, but in this instance they are backing up, and very little Johnson money is to be found in Washington, where the negroes cleaned up thousands of dollars on Gans.

Their apathy as regards Johnson is hard to understand, but it undoubtedly exists, and may even be attributed to suspicion, although that is denied. Johnson has reflected to credit on his race because of the clean victory he has obtained by constantly breaking off with men who have befriended him, and by making himself conspicuous in other ways. This may be at the bottom responsible for much of the uncertain attitude of the Washington negroes toward his coming bout.

Some of the negro bettors think that the odds will go to 2 to 1 on Jeffries, and they are waiting for that, but around the country the price seems to be gradually rising from 10 to 6 on Jeffries to 10 to 7, 10 to 7 1/2, 10 to 8, and they may go higher. Here are some of the betting reports from other cities:

Betting In Other Cities.

New York—Little betting is recorded here, though at the Hotel Albany it is reported the odds are 10 to 7 and 10 to 7 1/2, with Jeffries favorite. At John Wilkins' saloon, Johnson's friends are taking all the money offered at 10 to 7 1/2, with Jeffries favorite. At John Wilkins' saloon, Johnson's friends are taking all the money offered at 10 to 7 1/2, with Jeffries favorite. At John Wilkins' saloon, Johnson's friends are taking all the money offered at 10 to 7 1/2, with Jeffries favorite.

Philadelphia—Odds of 10 to 7 that Jeffries will win are being freely offered, though few bets are being recorded.

Boston—Reno odds prevail here. Baltimore—The prevailing odds here are 10 to 7 on Jeffries, though some negroes ask Joe Gans' friend want 2 to 1 for their money. At Herford, bookmaker is holding Jeffries at 10 to 6. Chicago—Jeffries is a 20 to 7 favorite in most of the betting here today, but some commissioners predict that Johnson will be a 5 to 4 favorite on July 4. Only $10,000 of Chicago money is being offered at odds of 10 to 6 on Jeffries for better odds. Toronto sends $25,000 to bet on fight. Some even say $50,000.

Denver—About $10,000 has been posted here. Jeffries is the favorite 10 to 6, 10 to 7, 10 to 7 1/2, 10 to 8, 10 to 9, 10 to 10, 10 to 11, 10 to 12, 10 to 13, 10 to 14, 10 to 15, 10 to 16, 10 to 17, 10 to 18, 10 to 19, 10 to 20, 10 to 21, 10 to 22, 10 to 23, 10 to 24, 10 to 25, 10 to 26, 10 to 27, 10 to 28, 10 to 29, 10 to 30, 10 to 31, 10 to 32, 10 to 33, 10 to 34, 10 to 35, 10 to 36, 10 to 37, 10 to 38, 10 to 39, 10 to 40, 10 to 41, 10 to 42, 10 to 43, 10 to 44, 10 to 45, 10 to 46, 10 to 47, 10 to 48, 10 to 49, 10 to 50, 10 to 51, 10 to 52, 10 to 53, 10 to 54, 10 to 55, 10 to 56, 10 to 57, 10 to 58, 10 to 59, 10 to 60, 10 to 61, 10 to 62, 10 to 63, 10 to 64, 10 to 65, 10 to 66, 10 to 67, 10 to 68, 10 to 69, 10 to 70, 10 to 71, 10 to 72, 10 to 73, 10 to 74, 10 to 75, 10 to 76, 10 to 77, 10 to 78, 10 to 79, 10 to 80, 10 to 81, 10 to 82, 10 to 83, 10 to 84, 10 to 85, 10 to 86, 10 to 87, 10 to 88, 10 to 89, 10 to 90, 10 to 91, 10 to 92, 10 to 93, 10 to 94, 10 to 95, 10 to 96, 10 to 97, 10 to 98, 10 to 99, 10 to 100, 10 to 101, 10 to 102, 10 to 103, 10 to 104, 10 to 105, 10 to 106, 10 to 107, 10 to 108, 10 to 109, 10 to 110, 10 to 111, 10 to 112, 10 to 113, 10 to 114, 10 to 115, 10 to 116, 10 to 117, 10 to 118, 10 to 119, 10 to 120, 10 to 121, 10 to 122, 10 to 123, 10 to 124, 10 to 125, 10 to 126, 10 to 127, 10 to 128, 10 to 129, 10 to 130, 10 to 131, 10 to 132, 10 to 133, 10 to 134, 10 to 135, 10 to 136, 10 to 137, 10 to 138, 10 to 139, 10 to 140, 10 to 141, 10 to 142, 10 to 143, 10 to 144, 10 to 145, 10 to 146, 10 to 147, 10 to 148, 10 to 149, 10 to 150, 10 to 151, 10 to 152, 10 to 153, 10 to 154, 10 to 155, 10 to 156, 10 to 157, 10 to 158, 10 to 159, 10 to 160, 10 to 161, 10 to 162, 10 to 163, 10 to 164, 10 to 165, 10 to 166, 10 to 167, 10 to 168, 10 to 169, 10 to 170, 10 to 171, 10 to 172, 10 to 173, 10 to 174, 10 to 175, 10 to 176, 10 to 177, 10 to 178, 10 to 179, 10 to 180, 10 to 181, 10 to 182, 10 to 183, 10 to 184, 10 to 185, 10 to 186, 10 to 187, 10 to 188, 10 to 189, 10 to 190, 10 to 191, 10 to 192, 10 to 193, 10 to 194, 10 to 195, 10 to 196, 10 to 197, 10 to 198, 10 to 199, 10 to 200, 10 to 201, 10 to 202, 10 to 203, 10 to 204, 10 to 205, 10 to 206, 10 to 207, 10 to 208, 10 to 209, 10 to 210, 10 to 211, 10 to 212, 10 to 213, 10 to 214, 10 to 215, 10 to 216, 10 to 217, 10 to 218, 10 to 219, 10 to 220, 10 to 221, 10 to 222, 10 to 223, 10 to 224, 10 to 225, 10 to 226, 10 to 227, 10 to 228, 10 to 229, 10 to 230, 10 to 231, 10 to 232, 10 to 233, 10 to 234, 10 to 235, 10 to 236, 10 to 237, 10 to 238, 10 to 239, 10 to 240, 10 to 241, 10 to 242, 10 to 243, 10 to 244, 10 to 245, 10 to 246, 10 to 247, 10 to 248, 10 to 249, 10 to 250, 10 to 251, 10 to 252, 10 to 253, 10 to 254, 10 to 255, 10 to 256, 10 to 257, 10 to 258, 10 to 259, 10 to 260, 10 to 261, 10 to 262, 10 to 263, 10 to 264, 10 to 265, 10 to 266, 10 to 267, 10 to 268, 10 to 269, 10 to 270, 10 to 271, 10 to 272, 10 to 273, 10 to 274, 10 to 275, 10 to 276, 10 to 277, 10 to 278, 10 to 279, 10 to 280, 10 to 281, 10 to 282, 10 to 283, 10 to 284, 10 to 285, 10 to 286, 10 to 287, 10 to 288, 10 to 289, 10 to 290, 10 to 291, 10 to 292, 10 to 293, 10 to 294, 10 to 295, 10 to 296, 10 to 297, 10 to 298, 10 to 299, 10 to 300, 10 to 301, 10 to 302, 10 to 303, 10 to 304, 10 to 305, 10 to 306, 10 to 307, 10 to 308, 10 to 309, 10 to 310, 10 to 311, 10 to 312, 10 to 313, 10 to 314, 10 to 315, 10 to 316, 10 to 317, 10 to 318, 10 to 319, 10 to 320, 10 to 321, 10 to 322, 10 to 323, 10 to 324, 10 to 325, 10 to 326, 10 to 327, 10 to 328, 10 to 329, 10 to 330, 10 to 331, 10 to 332, 10 to 333, 10 to 334, 10 to 335, 10 to 336, 10 to 337, 10 to 338, 10 to 339, 10 to 340, 10 to 341, 10 to 342, 10 to 343, 10 to 344, 10 to 345, 10 to 346, 10 to 347, 10 to 348, 10 to 349, 10 to 350, 10 to 351, 10 to 352, 10 to 353, 10 to 354, 10 to 355, 10 to 356, 10 to 357, 10 to 358, 10 to 359, 10 to 360, 10 to 361, 10 to 362, 10 to 363, 10 to 364, 10 to 365, 10 to 366, 10 to 367, 10 to 368, 10 to 369, 10 to 370, 10 to 371, 10 to 372, 10 to 373, 10 to 374, 10 to 375, 10 to 376, 10 to 377, 10 to 378, 10 to 379, 10 to 380, 10 to 381, 10 to 382, 10 to 383, 10 to 384, 10 to 385, 10 to 386, 10 to 387, 10 to 388, 10 to 389, 10 to 390, 10 to 391, 10 to 392, 10 to 393, 10 to 394, 10 to 395, 10 to 396, 10 to 397,